EMBASSY BEAT

Austria - Italy: What are you doing? I'm the one guy who hasn't attacked you. Until now anyway. You can be sure I'll turn my attention to you in very short order.

Austria - France: If there is anything I can do to help you with Italy's demise please let me know. I'm sure we can come to some sort of arrangement concerning the care of his supply centers. His mismanagement of saidsame centers demands that we intervene. On to Rome!

Italy-France. Please note that I have completely and unilaterally called off my war over the Western Mediterranean. I think it's time we both focus our energies on other arenas.

Berlin: Baron von Gräber will strolling down Unter Den Linden Street remarked.

Well, my friends, as usual Germany has to do the work for the rest of Europe. If we can't get Italy and Austria and Turkey to see the danger from France and England NOW the war will soon be over for all of us. It will be harder on the others than Germany because we have learned how to fight on to the end with honor. Wass ist ist!!! Nicht wahr?

CLIFFHOME: Two more fleets have settled into Davy Jones' Locker. The Turks now have the sea power to permanently sweep the Brits from RS, but will be hard-pressed to hold their own elsewhere given a resurgent Tsar backed by the Brits. China's strength is now insufficient to hold off the foreign devils so likely the Middle Kingdom will fall. Holland seems to have accepted toadyhood as the price of survival--had news for the French who are the only stopper containing the Japanese from exploding into the Indian ocean in force.

Status of E-Games

I'm still holding my own in the e-GUNSLINGER. After 10 turns I've got three kills with four "movers" left. One of them has a kill, so if I can survive, I have at worst a draw.

e-RAIL BARON is off to a slow start as Don didn't realize he didn't have his set with him. He's on his way now, so things should proceed smoothly until Pete's overseas trip.

I'm thinking of starting a non-GM'd game of MAHARAJA soon, so the three of you that were signed up, start thinking about it. I'd be the 4th.

e-BRITANNIA also just got started with the initial Roman turn just awaiting a Belgae decision to retreat to Downlands or not to be complete.

BEST PRESS:

Anonymous Brigante: My dearest Romans, Conquerors of the world. We Brigantes fall before you in respect. The Brigantes are your friends. The Belgae hate you and say bad things about you. The Brigantes are good and say nice things about Romans. There is no need to attack any Brigantes. We melt away at the sight of your strong legions. Peace in our time.

Commander of the Brigantes: OK, so there isn't a second wave for the Belgae. They don't need one since they can kick sufficient backside in a first wave to make a second wave unnecessary. As the commander of Belgae's forces was telling me only yesterday, "The Romans are such flaming wimps that I only need one wave to flatten them." I would have been more circumspect in his position, but that's just me. I'll stand aside and watch the show.
